Types. Chemists categorize chemical changes into three main classes: inorganic chemical changes, organic chemical changes and biochemical changes.. Inorganic changes. Inorganic chemistry describes the reactions of elements and compounds that, in general, do not involve carbon. The changes typically take place in laboratories, or on a larger scale in heavy industries.

Chemical change - Wikipedia

Chemical decomposition, analysis or breakdown is the separation of a single chemical compound into its two or more elemental parts or to simpler compounds. Chemical decomposition is usually regarded and defined as the exact opposite of chemical synthesis.. The details of a decomposition process are not always well defined but some of the process is understood; much energy is needed to break bonds.
